ORDER

On October 3, 2014, the Oklahoma Department of Corrections (“DOC”) filed a motion to quash a subpoena duces tecum issued by plaintiffs. The DOC stated in its motion that the parties were attempting to resolve a proposed protective order that might eliminate some of its objections to the requested materials. However, the parties have not submitted a proposed protective order to the court and plaintiffs have not responded to the DOC’s motion, which is now deemed confessed. LCvR.7.1(g).

Accordingly, the DOC’s motion to quash is GRANTED.

IT IS SO ORDERED.

Dated this 4th day of November, 2014.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT JUDGE
